construction. "We want to take the worries and stress out of owning a pool," Horning states, and he delivers on that goal by consistently working with the best sub-contractors and the highest quality equipment and materials available. Referrals make up a large portion of their current customer-base, which is further evidence of their unwavering attention to customer care and quality of goods and services. Horning's "service what we sell," mentality is the crux of his commitment to excellence and promise of quality to his customers.

When looking to install a custom pool, Integrity's design team will work tirelessly with you and your family on creating your dream backyard. "It's never too early to get started on your backyard dream. Together let's begin the design process and make your dream a reality." Horning's viewpoint of customer care begins with your first interaction with his team. Working with the design team, you will curate and create, alongside the experts, in turning your backyard into your new oasis. Meeting with the design team and getting your vision started is an exciting experience and one you should have sooner rather than later. These projects will take time, so it really is never too early to start considering the various options.

The length of time needed to install a new pool or spa will vary based on how you and your family would like to use it. If you were looking to use your pool year round, a swim spa or hot tub would be recommended. In this case, it could be delivered and installed within a few days to a few weeks time. If you were looking for a more traditional pool experience, a concrete pool is a great option. A concrete pool project requiring design and excavation can typically take three to six months, depending on design, permits, and schedules. Meeting with the design team early on will help to expedite this process.

Once your new pool is installed, Craig works within the "less is more," philosophy, meaning that the less a pool-owner has to do with regards to pool maintenance, the better. All pools constructed by Integrity come standard with an auto-cleaner, an automatic vacuum that is constantly at the bottom of the pool searching for debris. The days of vacuuming pools by hand are long behind us thanks to this device.

Another great, user-friendly feature is the IntelliChlor chlorine generator. This device uses common table salt to produce all the chlorine needed to keep the pool clean, automatically. This takes the guesswork out of manual chlorination. Pool owners no longer need to purchase, transport, or store chlorine at their homes.

If a pool is a route you'd rather leave unexplored, never fear; Integrity Pools & Spas, Inc. still has options for you. As an Arctic Spa Dealer, Integrity sells a huge variety of top-quality hot tubs and spas that are customizable for even the most selective of customers. Spas offer a host of benefits to the user, including muscle pain relief, relaxation and a much-needed romantic get-away for couples right outside their back door.

Energy Efficient

Arctic Spas are second-to-none when it comes to energy efficiency. Powerfully insulated and brilliantly designed, they are made to maintain as much heat as possible, requiring less energy for re-heating. The Mylo-vac Cover is 5 inches thick, providing additional insulation so that rising heat cannot escape the tub.

Easy Installation

Arctic Spas come standard with the Forever Floor, effectively eliminating the need for an unsightly concrete pad under the spa. Not only does this add to the aesthetic quality of the hot tub, it makes installation a breeze.

Easy to Maintain

Arctic Spas are nearly maintenance free when equipped with Spa Boy, an automated, low chemical, salt-water sanitation water care system. Spa Boy technology takes the guesswork out of maintaining your spa and with an ORP probe, you can monitor the water condition of your spa from your smart phone.
