Transform your backyard into an outdoor oasis with the help of Eagle Wings Business Network (EWBN). For over 30 years, EWBN has been transforming regular spaces into fun and exciting places to relax and create memories with family and friends. As we've been serving Lancaster County for decades, along with surrounding counties and even surrounding states, EWBN knows how to create custom backyard structures that last.

EWBN can help to create your dream backyard by installing customized roof structures, outdoor kitchens, patios, walkways, decks, fencing, or stone walls, fireplaces, firepits and even basements. Assistance and industry-experienced advice are offered every step of the way to ensure your complete satisfaction. Because EWBN is committed to overdelivering, they never hesitate to give free consultations for any size project. Check out their work at ewbn.net or call 717-355-0741 to get started on your outdoor-living project.

BEFORE

“From the initial concept meeting to the planning and execution of the project, Reuben and his team were terrific. Starting from the excavation through the electrical work and completion of the garage, working with EWBN made the 4-month process easy and stress free. The team was focused on getting the job done, finished on time and complete, while focusing on your complete satisfaction.”

Homeowner, Kevin

Since 2003, Eagle Wings Business Network (EWBN) has been working with clients from all over Southeastern Pennsylvania and Delaware creating outdoor spaces that are both exciting and relaxing. The team loves leaving their customers with an outdoor extension of their home where fun will be had and memories made.

Owner Reuben Stoltzfus established EWBN 20 years ago after having a landscape and nursery business for more than 10 years. With over 30 years of industry experience, Reuben and his team have been providing superior work in the fields of landscaping, hardscaping, and construction. Their team also has the capacity, craftsmanship, and experience to complete basement remodels as well.

Reuben created EWBN to be a one-stop outdoor-living shop so homeowners would have a simplified process of dealing with one contractor versus multiple. There is no need to stress yourself dealing with several contractors to complete your backyard project. Instead, deal with one contractor from start to finish and allow EWBN to work for you. That is exactly what Kevin did when he went with the EWBN team to complete his entire backyard transformation (showcased in this article).

Last spring EWBN had the honor of overseeing Kevin's complete backyard renovation. He had EWBN handle his project in its entirety, which included an outdoor kitchen set under a custom-made pergola, large patio space, a retaining wall, a walkway, a new 2-story garage structure, landscaping, and our new line of smokeless firepits—all enclosed with custom-made fencing that provides the perfect amount of privacy. Comparing the before and after photos gives you a visual idea of the project overhaul, but let's also share some of Reuben's industry advice so you know you have the right contractor for your job.

When you look at the before pictures, it is almost hard to believe the after pictures are the same exact space. Reuben listened to Kevin's ideas and vision he had for his backyard, then applied his industry expertise to create a design that was brought to life. That is advise Reuben will always share, which is make sure your contractor listens to what your ideas are and that the work is a visual display of your ideas. When your ideas are incorporated into your outdoor space, it makes it more personal and customized to your needs and wants.

Not all outdoor-living projects need to be on the same scale as Kevin's to make a difference—even smaller projects can make a big impact, especially when it comes to how the space functions. Another piece of advice from Reuben is to make sure that your project increases the functionality of your space. Reuben always considers the homeowner's property and its value. If a project is not increasing the functionality of a space, it more than likely will not increase the value of your home either.

EWBN is connected with a trusted network of builder suppliers in Lancaster County. Our direct relationships with a wide network of product manufacturers provide endless options for our customer base. Although we encourage you to visit our office where we have both indoor and outdoor displays, we will be happy to accompany
